DuPONT WILL DOUBLE CAPACITY

MEANS ADDED PRORPERITY TO GRAYLING.

Work of Construction Will Begin

About June 15th.

A letter received from Manager C T. Clark, of the du Pont factory, a copy of which appears on the front page of this issue of the Avalanche says that they will double the capacity of the plant, beginning work about June 5th.

This will be glad news to the people of Grayling and in fact, all northeastern Michigan. It means another busy building season for Grayling more workmen to run the plant after completion of the plant, and from 300 to 400 more men working in the surrounding woods. No doubt more resdent homes will also be built.

'Tom" Stephens' Party Startle Guests In Baltimore Hotel.

Baltimore, Md., May 26.-After hav ing spent several months in the wilds of South America, Henry Stephens of Detroit and Waters, Mich., and D. Duggan of Detroit, reached Baltimore oday and registered at the Hotel Bel

Stephens carried a cane that looked ike a rustic bench, together with several other odd looking packages. One proved to be a bird-cage, in which was a Columbian trumpeter bird. The bird, not accustomed to the palatial surrounding, voiced his protest with several shrill screams. Guests ran excitedly out of the dining room, thinking it was a Mexican raid. The hreats that were heaped on aforesaid bird, Stephens et al., read like the minutes of a black haud meeting.

Accompanying Stephens and Dug gan was a valet who registered as Florencio Prat, Barcelona, Spain. He speaks only Spanish. Both Mr. Dug gan and Mr. Stephens speak English with a strong Sinn Fein accent. The result was that very little conversa tion passed between the trio.

The disconcerting part of their entrance to the hotel was when the valet was assigned to a room. Unfortunately the room contained a Murphy bed which surreptitiously hid itself. The floor did not look inviting to Mr. Valet, so he ejaculated a few aphorisms which meant he was peeved. It took the entire office force and Messrs. Stephens and Duggan to make him understand.

Mr. Duggan stated that while South America he visited Chili and became involved in trouble with the government and was on his way to Washington to visit the Chilean minister to have things straightened out.

This afternoon the party left for Washington. The large number of handbags was first loaded onto a taxi, the Florencio Prat appeared with the wooden bird cage in which was the trumpeter bird from the wilds of Columbia, and when all was in readiness Messrs. Duggan and Stephens got in the cab on top of the baggage. - De troit Free Press.

May 26th, 1916. Mr. O. P. Schuman, Editor "The Crawford Avalanche," Grayling, Mich.

Dear Sir:-

I am pleased to advise you that our Company has decided to double the capacity of the Grayling plant. I expect the work of construction will begin about June 15.

I thought that you would probably like to have the advance information.

For The Welfare f Crawford County.

The fact the officials of the Michigan Central R. R. are going to visit this section of Michigan, with the are concerned in the welfare of Crawford county.

We need more farmers and after they are here we will need to help them to stay, for it will not be rich men who will settle on these lands, but men who have saved a few hundred and are looking for a home. They figure they have enough to live on for a year or so and by that time they think they will get a start. At the end of the first year they find to their astonishment that the fact of their having paid for their groceries is a great detriment to them.

Some of the stores will not buy their rops because "they don't owe any thing." They haven't enough of any one thing for a carload, and their neighbors can sell their stuff because hev run bills.

We need a system of co-operation co-operation among the farmers, but the farmers in whom they can have faith and which will justify their faith by fair dealing. We also need for our farmers a club room, where they can meet when in town and talk things over without going to the sa-

Money is not so plentiful in these days of high prices, that our farmers can afford the system of treating, that is so popular when once inside the saoon doors. And we need a rest roon for farmers' wives, where they can wait when their shopping is done, un til time to start home.

We also need an alfalfa club, which will buy lime by the carload and sell it to the farmers for cost. Many of our farmers would try alfalfa, but one ton of lime costs too much owing to the local freight rates and to sow alfalfa on sour soil without lime, is to nvite failure. Any soil that grows wild strawberries, huckleberries, or sheep laurel is too acid to raise alfal-Every acre which is sowed to alfalfa successfully makes that acre worth $100.00. Can we increase the value of our land any faster than by sowing the wonder crop?

It has been provided that if the seed s inoculated and the land limed, alfalfa does well in Crawford county, and it has the advantages of being money crop. It is valuable as a feeding crop, it enriches the land, it grows on, and it is worth more to feed than clover and does not run out like clo-

I believe the time will come when Crawford county will be famous for its alfalfa and its stock. It just needs

Mr. Becker has disposed of his in erest in the Bank of Johannesburg and of his residence property to Mr. R. Hanson and it is also understood that he has disposed of his mercantile interest in that village.

For a number of years he has been closely identified with the business interests of that thriving section not only being engaged as cashier of the bank there but also conducting a very successful store business in the dry goods, clothing, shoes and furnishing line. He has also been engaged in the real estate business and in the business of buying potatoes.

He has been supervisor from that township for the last six or seven such as has been developed with such years and has been looked upon thru success in Denmark, not a system of out the country as one of the progressive citizens and a man interested in sego county. His many friends not only about Johannesburg, but also in other parts of the county will regret to learn that he is leaving here but will join in extending to him and his family the most complete success,

Mr. Becker left on Thursday of this week for Detroit to take up his new duties. The position which he will assume is one of much responsibility and one for which Mr. Becker is wel fitted .- Gaylord-Herald-Times,

Washington-On the eve of the re which officials believe will renew the demand for withdrawal of American troops from Mexico, and with another conference between American and Mexican military commanders about to begin, a protest was received at the White House reporting serious difficulties between American oil operators at Tampico and the Mexican authorl ties. The protest came in the form of a telegram addressed to rPesiden Wilson by 84 American citizens re siding at Tampico, who had held a mass meeting and determined to lay case before the government They declared the Mexican military officials were promulgating decrees designed to make it impossible for Americans to do business in the country and told hom one of their number had been arrested and imprisoned for three hours because he refused to pay his employes wages fixed by the authorities in excess of terms previously agreed upon with the men.

The signers of the message asserted their right to protection from the American government, and announced their determination not to comply with the arbitrary and confiscatory orders and decrees by the Mexicans.

White House officials sent the pro test to the state department for in vestigation. Other complaints already have been received regarding recent decrees by the Carranza governmen and it is probable there will be representations on the subject as soon as the controversy over the presence of American troops in Mexico is ad justed.

"It has become practically impossible for an American to do business of any nature in this section of the country," the Tampico message said, because of restrictions placed by the authorities that we believe to be directed primarily against American citicens. For a year a series of decrees have made their appearance, which have been progressive in that they are consistently becoming more anti-American

CHARLES D. HILLES

Chicago—Chairman Charles Hilles, of the Republican national committee, expressed the opinion that the platform which will be adopted by the national convention next month would be unusually brief and deal only with the most vital public questions. From information obtained in talking with party leaders on the subject he believes the principal planks in the platform will include the following.

A statement on Americanism.
A statement on preparedness adequate militar yand naval defense. A declaration in favor of a protective tariff to be prepared by a partisan tariff commission created by congress, with special attention to the needs of the industries of this country after the close of the European war A declaration in favor of a merchant

A statement dealing with the short omings of the Democratic national administration.

On the question of national woman suffrage, Chairman Hillas said there was a difference of opinion among the party leaders and he did not know what action the convention would take on the subject.

ANOTHER LINE OF THE STATE COLLEGE'S WORK FOR THE BENEFIT OF FARMERS.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS NOW

The Opportunity to Acquire Valuable and important information is Open to All Who Desire It.

Lansing - Acting the unanimous request of those the rural conattended ference at M. A. C. a year ago the College has scheduled another conference for rural leaders this coming sum The dates are from July 11th to During this time the College will offer a well-rounded course of lectures dealing with all phases of rural eadership. Supt. Warren H. Wilson of New York City, undoubtedly the greatest authority on the Rural Church today, will give ten lectures dealing with this subject. Prof. T. J. Meek, of James Milliken University, will give ten lectures on "Old Testa ment Prophets," as interpreted from the historical, economic and sociolog ical points of view. A course of talks on the educational activities of the church will be in charge of Rev. A. R. Atwood of Lansing

In addition to these the College will also offer a series of popular lectures on agricultural topics dealing with agricultural resources of Michigan extension activities, horticulture, dairy ing, poultry raising, soils, etc. It will be the aim in these to provide a back ground for the right view of rural problems

The Michigan Agricultural College is coming to believe that it has a responsibility in developing the right kind of social success in country com munities as well as economic success. In fact, Kenyon L. Butterfield, president of the Massachusetts Agricultur al College, just about epitomizes the situation when he says in his book The Country Church and the Rural Problem." "I hold that the problem of the Country Church is the most im portant aspect of the rural problem touches the highest point in the direction of rural life. It sounds the deepest note in the harmonizing of the factors of a permanent rural civilization. It speaks the most eloquent word in the struggle to maintain the status of the farming class."

Home Economics Conference,

The M. A. C. has also scheduled, for the coming summer, a conference in ers of this subject in schools, club women, and all others interested. This will take place July 10 to 14th. The essions will be addressed by women of state and national reputation. Any one interested further in these conerences should address Director Summer Session, East Lansing, Michigan, Cattle Feeding Proves Profitable.

A steer feeding experiment, recent y concluded at the Michigan Agriculfural College, shows that steers can be fed in Michigan at a profit.

Eighteen steers were sold on the Chicago market for $1,978.47. Their total cost was $1,842.79, giving a profit of $185.68 or 7 per cent on the investment for five months. In figur ing cost, the cost, of feeds and marketing was added to the initial cost of 7c per pound. Feed was figured as follows: Cottonseed meal, $38.00 per ton; alfalfa hay, $12.00; corn, 70c per bushel, corn slage, $4.40 per ton; cull beans $15.00, per ton. For the part of this feed which a farmer could produce himself the price allowed is high enough to guarantee a very good.

profit on its production as well as getting a profit from the steers fed. For the purposes of experiment the steers were divided into three lots of six steers each. Each lot was given the same feed except grain which was cottonseed meal for one, bean meal or one and cooked beans for the third. It is interesting to note that the pro fits on the three lots were $58.90, $41.58 and $35.20 respectively.

That the experiment showed such a good profit is due in part to the spread of two cents between the buying and selling price. Had this difference been but one and one half cents the profit would have ben about 3 per cent. This bears out the general belief that in order to make money feeding cattle a difference of one and one-half cents between cost nd sale price should be obtained.

WORLD'S LARGEST TRACK SCALE

The weight of locomotives and cars is a matter of practical importance in railroading. Actual measuring of weights on scales possesses advantages which cannot be replaced by computing weights. To accomplish this actual weighing, the largest track scale in the world has recently been installed at West Albany by the New York Central railroad. The scale is 100 feet long with a weighing rail 90 feet long. There are six sections, each with capacity of 275,000 pounds, so that the six sections will carry a load of 825 tons. This great capacity makes possible the weighing of locomotives with heavy concentrated weights in comparatively short distances and the longest steel coaches on the same scale. An interesting detail is that the main lever knife edges are 21 inches long and each inch of the knife edge will support 7,000 pounds.

INTERESTING COLLECTIONS OF PHOTOS OF OLD LOCOMOTIVES.

Collecting photographs of old loco motives may seem a bit prosaic to some people. Nevertheless there are a lot of people in this country who follow this fed with all the interest and enthusiasm of the most ardent numismatist or philatelist. In fact, a comparison of stamps and coins with original photogaphs of the earliest American locomotives leaves, in their opinion, the advantage all on the side of the locomotive for points of interest. They treasure their collections as much as any boy does his stamp

In comparison with those who collect coins or stamps the number of collectors of old locomotive pictures is small, naturally. Yet there are in the country several thousands of these collections. It is not a new collecting fad by any means. Some of the collectors have been at it twenty-five years or more.

Very few railroad men are numbered among the collectors. Among the owners of the largest collections of this kind are a banker, an insurance man, a lumberman, a botanist and a clergyman. Most of them worked up an enthusiasm for the locomotive back in their boyhood days. This led them to compile a pictured history of its development. They have kept track of almost every screw and bolt that has been added since the days of the old De Witt Clinton. The size and type of cylinders, connecting rods, smokestacks and tenders mean as much to them as do the marks on STEAM AUTO FOR RAILROAD stamps and coins to those who collect

This collecting fad has its rules and its prices just like the others. Pictures are traded and high prices are paid for originals. The original photographs of the early locomotives-taken of course years after they had been running, because photography was not known in their early days-command high prices. It is not unusual for a collector to pay $25 for the privilege of this concern manufacture a steam of copying one of these originals, Those who have gone into the fad ex-tensively keep in close touch with one upon a plan of adapting the working another and know at all times the state of the market and the proper value to be placed on pictures which reached a point where the first car, which may be described as the steam they desire to add to their collections.

Eternal Vigilance Necessary.

All the major railroads have given their employees lectures on the principles of safety, have filled the service periodicals with instructions, and have utilized the motion-picture to present memorable object-lessons in the results of carelessness. Yet every new accident demonstrates that. for employees and passengers alike, eternal vigilance is the price of safety A few months ago, for example, a collision at Rockledge, Tenn., resulted in the killing of 12 men and the serious injury to 35; it was due to the failure of a power-operated signal, put out of r through the energizing of a magnet by a foreign current.

"Safety First" Working Well. The Railway Age Gazette thinks it possible that the reduced number of fatalities may be due, in some part, to the reduced traffic of last year as compared with previous years. Such a possibility seems hardly to be borne out by the figures, since these disclose a larger mortality and casualty list in earlier years when traffic was less than in 1915. We prefer crediting the improvement to the desire of railroad anagers to respond to the public beds and of efficiency, which can condemand for installation of all new appliances and all improvement of road- reached in about six weeks, and then tribute toward the ends of "safety

To understand Norway's position during the war it is necessary to remember the prominent part that the country's merchant navy is playing in its economic life. In 1913 the total of freights carried by Norway's ships in foreign trade was about $58,583,000. while the total value of all crops was kind belongs to John W. Miss Gina Krog is dead. In 1884 she wrote a newspaper article about woman's rights, and since that time she was one of the leading women of the country. She was also the first woman to occupy a seat in the stor-thing. The expenses of her funeral were paid by the state. Many of the foremost men of the country were present at the funeral. Rev. Eugene Hansson made the funeral sermon saying in part: "Being among thos who are to place the first memoria wreaths on the bier, I wish to recal the significance of the work of Gina Krog. There was a combat around the ideas that she wished to advance which is always the case when life has its sacred moments of birth. The ides that sustained her, the power that carried her to the goal, was the sense of the right of the capacities and forces of life to have a place in the great work of the commonweal The struggle for this inviolable right of life itself was the sacred fire which made out of her the idealist which she was. The emancipation which she assisted in creating for woman herself and for society has given to this a gift of priceless boon of spiritual power. Prof. A. A. For more than a year each of the been dealing individually with the problems of the war. The tangible result of the three days' sitting of the higher cabinet officers of Scandinavia was a new declaration to the world of a continued neutrality, 'loyal and impartial.' Officials of the three governments feel they have yet to deal with the real crises of the war. It is re called here that before peace possibly can bring an end to hostilities, the situation on one side or the other must In the extremities of this inevitable desperation the Scandinavian people are asking if acts far more ruthless than any heretofore attempted will not be committed against neutrals in a wild attempt to stay the impending crash of defeat. Often there spreads over Scandinavia the report that Ger nany intends eventually to 'seize' Den mark. The plausible excuse given for such contemplated action by Germany is a desire to control absolutely the sep-water entrance to the Baltic and o gain possession of the precious Danish butter, egg and bacon. On the other hand, there comes just as often rom Sweden or Norway the report that England, with a prolonged stress of war, would eventually shut off all supplies from the Scandinavian countries as the one sure method of stop ping 'leaks' to Germany and Austria.'

The United States legation in Stock holm is the only legation in a neutral land which handles the work of belligerents. The American minister, Ira Nelson Morris of Chicago, has taken over the work of locating Russian and German prisoners of war for these two governments, in spite of the fact that both Russia and Germany are well represented in Stockholm. The high social standing of Ira Nelson Morris has greatly aided the work of the lega-tion. Particular pleasure is felt in Stockholm at the interest the minister has taken in everything that touches on Swedish-American relations, even outside of official affairs. Mr. Morris also has been fortunate in the choice of his aids, especially in the selection of his secretary, John Hamilton Prince. formerly private secretary to William Jennings Bryan and long associate with the state department.

New York.-When the case of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, on trial for the murder of his wealthy father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich went to the jury at 1:23 p. m. Saturday the end of a most remarkable carrer of crime was near. The jury was out just one hour and twenty three minutes. Waite on the stan had told of his carrer of thievery and frankly stated that he murdered Mr. and Mrs. Peck, and intended to murder his wife who had testified The Verdict of guilty was in strict observance of the judge's charge. While the justice had not commented upon the evidence at all it was believed by many in the room that his expounding of the law had demolished the defense of "moral ldlocy," the one hope there was for acquittal. He had declared that the law did not recognize such defenses as neither that nor "moral depravity," "moral perversion," "abnormality" or anything of the kind could save a man The only test would be the legal definition of a defense of insanity. "Did the man know and appreciate the nature and quality of his act and did he know that it was wrong? If he had known that he bought arsenic as arsenic, that it would likely kill Mr. Peck and that he might be apprehend ed, he knew the nature, quality and equences of his deed."

Waite received the Verdict coolly and made this comment: "I don't see what in h-1 kept them so long, I could have decided it in 15 minutes The whole thing was a farce. The trial ought not to have lasted more than an hour altogether. Later he said that the verdict was less Telegraph. Always when someone has made an invention or a discovery some other person comes along pretty soon with improvements. These improvements usually have to do with the efficiency of the thing or its simplification. Sometimes it is found that a part of the original contrivance which was considered quite essential is really of no particular need and can be done away with just as well as not.

Something of that sort seems to be happening to wireless telegraphy just now, for, if the report which comes from the Pacific coast is correct, a ert B. Woolverton, who is described as the United States radio expert inspec tor for that territory, has found that the high steel towers with their an tennae are quite unnecessary, and that a wire stretched along the ground for say 500 feet, will answer exactly as well. With such a wire it is declared that Woolverton has picked up messages from Honduras, from Savville from Arlington and other places. Beyond the simplification of ap paratus which is embodied in this idea, there are said to be other possi bilities of great value as applied t wireless telephony.

> Three of our school teachers, Miss Lane, principal, Miss Barry and Miss Ryker, narrowly escaped fatal injurles Friday evening when a team, after which they were about to ride, ran away throwing the occupants of the wagon into the street. Several of the teachers were about to go to the McIntyre landing at the north end of Portage lake to spend Saturday. Charles Pillsbury, driving one of the N. P. Olson livery teams, after loading into the wagon the above ladies and their baggage, started to get into the wagon when the team started, before he had gathered up the reins, and ran wild around a corner and finally ran astride an electric light pole on the L. Herrick corner, stripping the harness from the horses, the wagen box striking the pole, breaking the reach. Miss Lane jumped soon after the team had started and is suffering a badly sprained ankle and other minor bruises. Miss Barry and Miss Ryker clung to the seat and when the wagon struck the pole, were precipitated over the front end of the wayon falling heavily upon the ground and just missing the telephone pole and cement sidewalk. The latter two were quite badly bruised and all had to be taken to their boarding places. Mr. Pillsbury received a bad bruise on the left leg. The horses were uninjured but the wagon was broken in several places. The accident was serious enough however that there are no fatal casualties to report is little less than miraculous. All the teachers were in their respective places in school Monday.

She broke off suddenly and nut her hand to her threat. It was hare. Her pearl pendant was gone! She twisted around with lightning rapidity, drag-ging Lamar around with her. The portieres of Japanese silk were parted. slightly. Protruding from the opening was a white hand with slender, taper ing fingers. Hanging from the overmanicured fingertips was a pendant of pearls. Emblazoned on the back of the hand was an irregular circle of Lamar and June sat as if paralyzed until a scraping sound shattered the spell.

Lamar sprang to his feet, jumped over the bench and tore the portieres from the heavy brass poles that supnorted them. He found himself in a little oblong recess. Directly in front of him was a long window opening presumably on the porch.

threw himself at the closed window, expecting it to give. The force of his uslaught shattered several of the small panes, but his progress was blocked by a wicker porch settee that had evidently been placed there for very purpose.

Unable to check his speed he tum-bled headlong over this settee and landed bruised against the outer rail of his falling body sounded unnaturally loud on the still air.

It was this sudden jarring that awakened Mary from her nap in the deep chair. With the dull gaze, or a person just roused from sleep, old woman rubbed her eyes and looked about. In the same recm. but in a far distant corner, she heard the soft rustle of a woman's skirt. Then the clink of glass against metal.

She twisted quietly in the chair until she was crouching on her knees on the seat of it, facing the back. Cauticusly she raised her body until her eyes were just above the edge. What she saw made her forget her own predicament.

Over in a half-lit corner was a large concealed her, was the daring Woman in Black, her right hand lifted so that the feeble light from the hanging lamp fell athwart its back. On it blazed Red Circle!

Mary dodged down behind the chair top as the woman slowly turned her head. After a few seconds the sound of liquid dripping into a glass made case, walking down the path on her her anxious to look again.

The weman was holding a small spange in her left hand. She squeezed it dry into a glass half full of water Smiling whimsicially to herself, she rupled the back of her right hand with the dampened sponge. The Red Circle disappeared.

Breathless with excitement, Mary strained her eyes to catch every move. She saw the woman take up the glass, deliberately smill the liquid on the water color paints and the sponge from the redestal. Leaving the glass where it was, she opened a false pecket in the skirt of her dropped the several articles into i and quietly left the room.

The disputch said the Serblan army, in full strength, had ended after crossing the sea from the Island of oCriu without loss. The Serbian army is variously estimated to number between $0,000 and 100,000 officers and men. It was re-organized and re-equipped at Corfu, 700 miles y water from Saloniki.

The first news of the Bulgarian in-vasion of Grecian Macedonia was contained in a dispatch from Athens to the Exchange Telegraph company here, stating that the French headquarters in the Balkans announced that the Bulgarians had occupied the Greek forts of Rupel, Dragotin and Spatovo, and-were advancing from Demir-Hissar, southeast of Strumnitza, toward Kavalla.

The Greek forts Rupel and Dragotin are respectively, six and nine miles north of the town of Demir-Hissar, while Spatovo fort lies four miles east of that town. Kavalla, on which the Bulgarians are said to be marching, is a seaport on the Aegean sca, 55 miles in an air line southeast of Demir-Hissar.

Everybody's Mission

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE of the Mondy Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—Ye see now large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.—inl. 6:11.

Few people realize how much Christian work can be accomplished by letter writing. In some cases a letter is better even than words, for it can be read and reread, and pondered at one's Clay Trumbull says that he was girls." led to Christ by & personal appeal from a friend in letter. What preaching and the ordinary forms of church work had

for him was done by a few sentences in a note. As he reflected upon this he began to realize the importance of individual work for individuals, and all his life long he engaged in this form of effort.

A prominent business man in Worcester, Mass., went to his pastor and said that he would like to unite with the church. When asked how long he had been a Christian he replied that he had taken the step only a few days ago, and that he had been led to do this at the request of a lady who had written him on the subject. He said that sermons had not made much im pression on him, but that this letter from a person whom he hardly knew appealed to him so strongly that he could not resist it.

A little mission Sunday school in Connecticut organized a home department. One of the workers wrote to a friend who was living in the forests of Canada, far from any church, and asked if she would not like to join their home department. The reply was favorable and the literature was sent. Soon the friend in Canada wrote say ing that she thought she could get some of her neighbors to join the Connecticut school it she had the proper literature. In a short time she succeeded in getting 25 more members, all of whom became identified with the little mission school in Connecticut. three or four hundred miles away.

They were so pleased with their work that after awhile they organized a Sunday school of their own. Soon they outgrew their accommodations and raised money and built a chapel Then they said, "We ought to nave a Christian Endeavor society," and soor that, too, was organized. This went on for a time, but the more they studied the Bible the more hungry they grew, and by and by they organized a church and secured a pastor. And all this came from one letter written by appearance, and it is not so light in and in pale tan, or the same models an enterprising worker in a little weight. But the same designs may may be had in black or white or com-

Why should not Christians aim to make their correspondence count for the Master as well as their conversa-tion? There might be some letters in which it would not be advisable to ina low sleeveless bodice of satin. The permost in one's mind, opportunities would frequently be found to say a word for Christ, or drop a hint, or inclose a leaflet. I know a business man who was writing a letter one day when he saw a tract on his table. He in closed it and mailed the letter without much thought. Then the devil whispered to him, "You have made a fool of yourself. What do you suppose that man will think of you for putting a tract in a business letter? Being a Christian, he lifted his heart in prayer to God, saying, "Lord, did I make a mistake?"

Dack came the answer, "What is to hinder you from putting a tract in every letter you write?" "By the grace of God 1 will," he replied, and for the remainder of his life. he followed this practice. He saw so much good coming from this kind of effort that he finally withdrew from usiness and devoted his life to writing letters and sending out Christian literature of various kinds.

I know a lady who, to help a drinking man, took him into her family as a boarder. Soon he committed some misdemeanor and was sent to prison. She did not forsake him in his dis grace, but remembering the Master's words, "I was sick and in prison ve visited me" she endeavored to help him by writing encouraging letters Soon other prisoners requested that she write to them, and by degrees this work increased until finally she was writing between two and three hundred letters a year to the mmates of different prisons.

As soon as a prisoner was led to accept Christ she sent him a Bible and concordance, and tried to interest him in Rible study. If they showed much proficiency in this work she entered their name in a Bible correspondence school which took her proteges at half price. Many of her correspondents became teachers of the Bible, and some of them had large classes in their respective prisons. Murderers, infidels and hardered men of all kinds, have been led to Christ by this humble woman through her prayers and letters. Sue is a farmer's wife, has had only an ordinary editeation and has taken in sewing and washing in order to earn money to pay the postage.

MAKING GOOD WORLD'S WASTE

Thirty-Six Million Babies Are Born the Earth During Each Period of Twelve Months.

"Thirty-six million babies are born into the world each year, about sev enty a minute, or more than one every second," says a statistician. "Plac each baby in a cradle ranged in a line and the cradles would circle the globe Let the babies be carried in their mothers' arms past a given point, the procession being kept up night and day, and at the end of a year only about one-sixth of the infantile host would have gone by, and this although they passed at the rate of 12 a min ute. The babe that had to be carried when the tramp began, would be able to walk when a mere fraction of its comrades had reached the reviewer's rost; and when the year's supply of babies was drawing to a close there leisure. Rough on the Slacker.

Edward Marshall, the author and war correspondent, said in London: "After an experience on the tor-pedoed Sussex I can sympathize with the English hatred of the slacker.

"The slacker gets it good and hard in England nowadays. One of these slacking chaps boarded a train the other evening that was crowded with muddy, unshaven soldiers just back on a five-day furlough from the irenches.

The slacker was in evening dresssilk socks, pumps, brilliantined hair and dainty white gloves. There were no seats so he took hold of a strap. As he stood there strap hanging the Tommies studied him thoughtfully Finally one of them got up, touche him on the elbow politely, and said: "'Have my seat, miss.'"

Strange Toast.

In the course of a recent address Doctor Smellie of the Original Seces sion church, recalled a curious toast which one of the Scottish regiments quartered at Edinburgh Castle in the early years of last century was accustomed to drink at mess. The toast was: "A clean sword and a dirty it must only be in the cause of honor. for the protection of the weak, for the defense of the helpless. MATTER WORTHY CAREFUL AT TENTION OF HOUSEWIFE.

Food Specialists Suggest Some Meth ods of Preparing the Dried and Canned Product to the Best Possible Advantage.

Food experts have long been insist ing upon the importance of dried beans, peas, cowpeas and similar legumes, and in one form or another such foods are an accepted part of the diet in most families. In order that she may make the diet varied, it is to the housekeeper's advantage to know a number of good ways of serving such foods, and so the home economics experts of the department have made some suggestions based upon their studies of foods and their uses in the Fresh green lima beans when at their best have a delicate, spicy or pungent flavor, which to some palates, at least, suggests curry, a fairly wellknown (any grocer can get it) though not very common spice, which is per-haps most familiar in such dishes as "curried lamb" or "curried veal." This suggested the possible use of curry as a seasoning for lima beans, and the tests which have been made gave very satisfactory results with dried and canned as well as with fresh beans. When preparing dried lima beans, soak them an hour or two (or even longer), according to dryness, and cook until tender. Then add the curry powder (in the proportion of one-half teaspoonful (level) to each pound of dried beans) rubbed into a tablespoonful of butter and mixed with a few spoonfuls of hot water. Add salt and pepper to taste and cook slowly until the curry flavor is well distributed through the beans.

That the method can also be followed with good results in preparing canned lima beans for the table is of interest to housekeepers as well as to the canning clubs organized as a part of the department work and for whom some special studies of the use of canned vegetables have been under taken. In this case, as with dried the amount of curry powder should be just sufficient to give a delicate flavor. A quarter of a teaspoon ful (level) is sufficient for a quart car

For variety a little onion may be used, with or without curry. Cut the onion very fine, cook it in a covered stewpan with a little butter and a few tablespoonfuls of water until it is tender, and then add to the beans.

Another good combination is canned lima beans with pimientos or sweet peppers, with or without the addition of the finely-chopped onion, cooked until it is tender. The pimientos, because of their red color, add to the attractiveness of the dish as well as to the flavor. One-half of a good-sized pepper, cut into small pieces, is sufficient for a quart can of beans. into the beans and cook with them long enough to distribute the flavor through the beans.

MIXED FRUIT RECIPES PRETTY SHADE FOR CANDLE

FREQUENTLY AN ADVANTAGE IN A COMBINATION.

Excellent Jolly, Marmalade and Paste Prepared From a Mixture of Cranberries and Apples-Economy in the Scheme.

It is often a decided advantage to the housekeeper to make jelly out of a combination of fruits-sometimes because the combined flavor may be preferable to either alone and sometimes because it may be more economical as, for instance, when she has too little of either fruit to use for this purpose, or, to cite another instance, when she wishes to extend the flavor of some special fruit as quince through a considerable amount of material less highly flavored, as advantage in both flavor and color, as when cranberry is combined with mildflavored apples.

An excellent combination for home made jelly, according to the home eco nomics experts of the department who have been studying the uses of differ ent fruits, is cranberry with apple. Equal quantities of cranberries and of apples cut up into small pieces should be just covered with water and boiled until the fruit is soft. Strain the juice through cheesecloth. Add to the pulp the same amount of water as at first boil the pulp a second time, strain as before, and combine the two lots of juice. Add three-fourths as much su gar by measure to the juice, and boil The jelly is done when a few drops taken up with a mixing spoon will flake on the spoon as it cools in-stead of dropping off of it. Pour the jelly into glasses which have just been sterilized in boiling water and thoroughly drained. Seal the glasses in the ordinary way.

The pulp which remains after the juice has been drained off for jelly can be used to make excellent "marmalade," or "fruit cheese," as old-time housekeepers called it. The pulp should be passed through a sieve, an equal weight of sugar added to it and boiled until it is thick and firm It must be stirred frequently so that it will not burn. The thick marma lade should be poured into freshly scalded glasses or jars. While the color is not quite so good as jelly the flavor is distinctive and good, and such "fruit cheese" is delicious when spread on bread and butter or when used for filling bread-and-butter sand wiches. If less sugar is added in mak ing marmalade, it can be used in place of fresh or dried apples for Brown Betty and similar fruit puddings.

Lentil Loaf. One quart can tomatoes, or enough to make two cupfuls after being boiled down and strained; one-fourth bay leaf, two cloves, one small slice onion one cupful lentils, two tablespoonfuls butter, salt. Boil the tomatoes with the seasoning and strain. There should be about two cupfuls of juice Add one cupful of lentils, which have been washed and picked over, and the butter and salt. Cook until the lentils are soft and the liquid all ab sorbed. It is well to do this in a double boiler, though the first part o the cooking may be done with the upper part of the boiler set on the stove instead of over water. out into a square buttered mold. Our sketch shows a particularly dec orative little candle shade, that can be easily made from a small remnant of green or rose-colored soft silk, and some narrow ribbon of same color.

A cardboard shape must first be pre pared to fit over the wire, and this car be done by cutting out a strip of thin cardboard, bending it into shape and fastening it together at the edges with three small paper fasteners. This is shown accompanied in the small sketch on the right of the illustration The soft silk is just tacked to the upper edge of the cardboard and then arranged in graceful folds on either side and gathered upwards so that it forms, in a way, a number of tiny fes toons. Ivory buttons are of every shade seen in dress fabrics, including navy and royal blues, dark reddish plums, nut and African browns, Russian green and many more in plain and mottled effects in various shapes to match the mixtures in cloakings and dress materials. Combination buttons are of black and white, blue, red and other colors. Small fancy buttons of black and white of the colors of the Register of Deeds for Crawford County, Michigan.

Very ornamental on wide belts worn on coats. Many cloth coats are trimmed with self-cov ered buttons with a black edge. There are covered buttons with a fancy center and plain rim, such as a plaid silk center and plain woolen rim. A new idea is a pearl center and fabric edge.

Many a dress, coat or waist may be changed in appearance by putting on new buttons and a new collar. lace buttons are used for the lace striped cotton fabrics.

Homemade Fruits. Because the little bunches of handmade tomatoes, apples, cherries, etc., were so expensive, I decided to make them of raw cotton, china silk and creps de chine scraps. With oil paint and gasoline a girl can have a very stylish hat trimming. Take a piece of cotton and stuff it into a round scrap of silk, then draw the edges tightly. Run the needle up through the center and back again and make a strong knot. Touch up the fruit with the reds, browns and yellows of apple tints; the same process is gone through for the various fruits desired Sew the fruit to a piece of milliner's wire and run the wire through a rub ber stem taken from an old bunch of artificial flowers.-From the Delines tor.

Muff's Substitute. The very newest tailored costumes are shown without a muff, but they are
